

Shall the famine area constitute one vast grave-yard? Shall responsibility for any of the graves rest with you because you failed to give?

JUST AS WE WERE ABOUT TO MAIL YOU
THE ENCLOSED APPEAL
THESE PICTURES ARRIVED FROM RUSSIA

And we send them on to you sincerely believing that they will impress you with the horrors and distress, the starvation and misery of the Russian people, the same as they have impressed us.

Graves everywhere. Dying and dead everywhere. Babies too weak to cry gaze appealingly towards you for a swallow of milk. Mothers, children, men—thousands upon thousands of them, would thank you for a handful of grain.

You can do something. You can relieve the agony. You can help save thousands of lives. You can help the workers of Soviet Russia in their struggle.

In Soviet Russia there has not been enough to eat for six years. Blockaded and starving they hurled back Koltchak; hungry they defeated Denikin and Wrangel. These attacks, financed by European powers to wreck Soviet Russia, devastated province after province. Then the drought. Then the famine. Has a people ever been more unfortunate?

Were trade established, were credits extended, Soviet Russia could the better help herself. Until then, your every support is needed.

The Russian workers' struggle is your struggle. Their battle for freedom, whether you fully agree with all they have attempted or not, is your battle. Give generously of the little you have, so that they may set their house in order.

MAY THESE PICTURES MOVE YOU TO ACTION
THIS IS OUR HOPE!

PLEASE send us the names and addresses of others who should be reached and who will help. You can help the famine-stricken materially by helping us to names.

The roadside for a bed, they have entered their last long sleep.

Babies and children, frozen in the snow, awaiting burial. They cried to you for bread, others still cry. Will you hear them?
